RESOLUTION

Almighty God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to take unto Himself, Bernard G. Anderson, our beloved and faithful member of Appomatox Chapter No. 10, Order of the Eastern Star.

Whereas, brother Anderson was for many years a devoted member of our order, being a charter member and having served as Worthy Patron from 1927 to 1946 with the exception of one year, 1935, when he was Associate Patron.

Be it Resolved, that our Chapter has sustained a great loss, that his life of devotion to his loved ones and to his church and his outstanding Christian life in the community will be an everlasting inspiration for all who knew and associated with him.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his family.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

More Than She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—seven or eight years ago but still keeps a half-dozen purebreds more or less as a hobby.

Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperament-controlled barn, expensive feed . . . the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.

Recently, a neighbor complained—asked if she couldn't get the milk "at cost." Dad agreed, sent her a bill for exactly the milk cost: 75¢ a can.

From where I sit, it's an misunderstand if you know all the facts. That's why we to consider the other viewpoint before we talk example, you have just for liking particular brand I have mine. And whether talking about butterfat ...let's try to respect each point of view.

Gee, we are set up now—what with Main Street and lots of other streets fresh with a new coat of "black top." Just like a new job, it makes you feel like going off to a new start. Pity the old arrangements could not have been made to have Main Street at least, done curb to curb the way. But, when we get all the resurfacing jobs around town the overall appearance will be better.

Some years ago, a store that I often patronized, ran a series of advertisements under the general head of How is your P. A.? The idea was "Personal Appearance." Well now, I do not know about you, and you, but I do know that I have a new pair of Bermuda shorts and at the drop of a hat I am not wearing them —provided only that I am at a beach—and that is being arranged.

There seems to be virtually no interest locally in the forthcoming political conventions to nominate candidates for President. Anyway, 1956 is a political year, and it may be worth mentioning that when General U. S. Grant ran for President there was a famous rhyme to go along with it. It ran:

"You ask us whence our candidate,
And what his name might be;
I hail from Appomattox,
And the spreading apple tree."

The latter referred to Lee having to wait and rest under an apple tree across the Appomattox River. Grant came up to offer his terms of peace terms, April 9, '65.

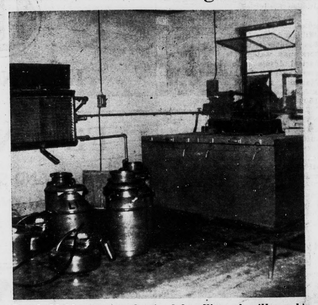
We have been delighted for the several issues to list the fine folks from Appomattox County are graduating from colleges. There is one item we regret: At the end of the article, it says: "... has accepted a position at ——. It appears that ... has a difficult time in ... his ablest boys and girls to ... careers at home! This is unfortunate pattern—for us.

It was happy recently to have a visit with a visiting newspaperman from the state of New York. He was passing through and dropped by the office for a look-see. He was in a position I envy: being able to "get off" and vacation at will. He was The Story of The ... he had just been to Atlanta. We found that we had much in common. He showed right off that he knew more Civil War than I did, and so I decided that the best thing for me to do was just listen. It was a thrill to meet a "Yankee Editor" who had his knowledge of what went on in this country 90 years ago.

Often we see lists of what books are the largest sales during a year. Some time ago a list of what books fetched the highest prices in 1955. It appears that the book that sold for just one copy of a book last year was $25,000. The cost for a copy of: "The Life of Major George Washington." This book was printed in Fredericksburg, Va., in 1754, and only eight known copies are left. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. provided the funds to purchase the Colonial Williamsburg, Inc.

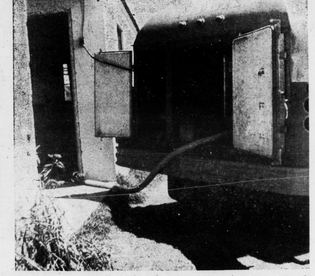
Do You Remember: in the older days, there was the public watering trough in Appomattox? People would have their horses had water, and where did they go? According to my informa-... public watering trough in ... box was located on the ... side of Harrold Street, about ... and-way.

Appomattox Dairyman Using Modernized Handling of Milk



Frank Mabley has modernized handling of milk on his dairy farm here, doing away with cans and multiple handling of milk

Milk flows directly into 300 gallon cooler tank from milker hose under new installation



Tank truck connects hose to 300 gallon tank and hauls the milk daily to Washington area

Frank Mabley, owner of Christmas Farm, recently installed the first bulk milk tank in Appomattox County.

It has a capacity of 300 gallons and is of the direct expansion type having four coils that are insulated with fiber glass. The coils operate independently of each other which is an aid should one fail to function, the others can accomodate the tank. This seamless, stainless steel tank is powered by a 2 HP air cooled engine.

Mabley quotes Overstreet, an expert on tanks, saying "The installation of a tank saves 25 cents per hundredweight through hauling charges, spillage and butterfat stickage.,,

"The more I work with it the more I realize it is a precision built machine. I expect it to improve the quality of my milk and perhaps by fat test as much as .05 percent." says Mabley.

While talking with the reporter, Frank said, "The dairyman producing quality milk should have no worry about installing a tank; sure one can of garlic milk would contaminate the entire tank — but I realize this and make sure my cows don't eat onions or silage that would give my milk an off taste. Quality production must be the goal of every dairyman if he expects to compete for a place on today's market."

"Milking 20 cows now is no more of a chore it's bringing in an armful of wood on a cold winter day. This operation saves me at least an hour and a half each day — you see until a few weeks ago, I was lifting cans, running milk over a surface cooler — this all took time. Sure a tank costs money, but they will make you money; but to the buyer it's important that he use a financial plan that will insure that the installation will pay its way and yield a return to the dairyman."

Circuit Court Sets Docket

One case is set for trial here on Saturday, as the Appomattox Circuit Court continues its June term. Court convened Tuesday, and the grand jury returned seven indictments. One, for malicious assault, was tried Tuesday, and on a plea of guilty, the defendant was given five years. Another malicious assault case has been set for trial on July 10. A forgery case was tried Tuesday, with a sentence of one year. The case set for trial Saturday is also a forgery case. An indictment for petty larceny, third offense, making the offense a felony, is set for June 16. A grand larceny case has not received a trial date, nor has an indictment for malicious assault, involving the wounding of a county special police officer.

The civil docket for the June term has not been completed.

Town Streets Are Resurfaced

A number of streets in the town of Appomattox have been getting a "face-lifting operation" this week, as state road forces have applied a new coating of "black top." Parts of Route 460 through the town were surfaced, as well as Main St. and Court and Church Streets. In a short while, portions of Route 460 through the town will have the hard-surface portion of the right-of-way widened.

A. H. S. PRINCIPAL NOT TO RETURN

It is understood that H. E. Kerr, Principal of the Appomattox High School, has notified local school authorities, that he will not return to the school for the next session. It is understood that he has accepted a position in the school system of a locality in Northern Virginia. Mr. Kerr came here seven years ago and has served ably, not only in the school but in civic affairs of the community. He has served several years as chairman of the Appomattox Chapter, American Red Cross. It is understood that his decision not to return will be presented at a meeting of the school board set for next Wednesday.

Republican Mass Meeting

It was announced today that Republicans of Appomattox County will have a mass meeting at 8 P. M., June 16, to select delegates and alternates to the Republican State Convention to be held July 21 in Roanoke. The local meeting will be held at Almond's Store. J. J. Wingfield, county acting chairman, called the meeting and said the mass meeting would reorganize the county party group and transact any other business to come up.

FFA's Elect New Officers

Frank Inge was elected to serve as president of the Robert E. Lee Chapter of the Future Farmers of America at the Appomattox High School for the School year of 1956-57. Elected to serve with Frank were: Fred Caldwell, vice-president; Ralph Inge, secretary; Floyd Jamerson, treasurer; James Carter, reporter; and Kinckle Martin, Sentinel. Luther Reynolds was chosen chairman of the executive committee. David Austin, Robert Beale and Nelson Mann were elected to serve on the executive committee. The jobs of chapter conductors for the coming year were given to James Cheatham and Dennis Torrence.

The new president has steadily risen and ably served in the ranks of the local chapter. He has served on the executive committee and this year as a junior he was the chapter treasurer. He has taken part in the banquet and assembly programs. He was a member of the winning dairy judging team representing the Virginia F. F. A. at the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond last fall, and has represented his chapter in judging contests at the State F. F. A. Rally in Blacksburg, as well as in several local judging contests.

They went through Woodridge Florist, and to the Airport, and to the Quality Dairy. The trip ended with a picnic lunch for all at Miller Park.

Sponsors for this visit will be the Junior Woman's Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Each member of the groups will have a quota of pledge cards to be signed and they are asking for the cooperation of the "red-blooded Americans" in the county to make this visit a success, and reach the 100 pint quota which has not been met for several years. Those not seen in person, may seek out a member of the sponsoring groups and volunteer as a donor.
